

Media Contact:
Kari Barlas
612-250-5703
kari.barlas@d6tm.org

Lakeville Resident Elected to Leadership in Toastmasters District

Will serve community and clubs throughout the state

LAKEVILLE, MN, May 10, 2019—Susan Rajbhandari was recently elected to the second-highest position in Minnesota Toastmasters District 6—Program Quality Director.

In this role, he is responsible for all aspects of education and training within the District which includes promoting and recognizing member achievements, and organizing and directing the District's training programs for more than 2,500 Toastmasters throughout Minnesota.

"Leadership is about the people you're serving. It's about working with individuals and groups for the betterment of all."

As a member of Lakeville Toastmasters, Rajbhandari served in many club leadership positions and worked his way up to the District level by serving as both an Area and Division Director.

He has also earned the distinction of Distinguished Toastmaster (DTM). The DTM award is the highest honor Toastmasters bestows, and recognizes a superior level of achievement in both communication and leadership.

"I ran for this office to make a positive impact in people's lives. My vision is to live the Toastmasters values: Integrity, Respect, Service, and Excellence."

Rajbhandari works as an Information Security Risk Auditor at UnitedHealth Group - Optum. He enjoys hiking, camping, swimming, driving, music, movies, and spending time with his family.

About Toastmasters International

Toastmasters International is a nonprofit educational organization that teaches public speaking and leadership skills through a worldwide network of meeting locations. The organization's membership exceeds 313,000 in more than 14,650 clubs in 126 countries. Since 1924, Toastmasters International has helped people of all backgrounds become more confident in front of an audience. For information about local Toastmasters clubs, please visit www.toastmasters.org.

###